Part 2. – Reserving the capacity of the room

Why do I have to reserve the capacity? What is it?

Good question! Although the permanent room can exist for some years, it can not be available all the time – it is necessary to reserve the capacity of the room at the time of scheduled meeting. Let us imagine the permanent room as a room with a table without chairs. Chairs are in this case a valuable commodity and so they are available in the room only when it is necessary. By reserving the capacity you are saying that you will need the chairs in the room at selected time. The reason for the need to reserve the capacity of the room is that the software license allows only the restricted number of users communicating at the same time.

Detailed description of the capacity of the room can be found in the „Help“ section of the system.

- 1 The room you have created can be found in the first part of „Your rooms“ section on the main page. Click on „Reserve capacity“
- 2 Fill out required information like the signature of the reservation, a number of attendees, time of the event start, the length of the reservation, and PIN for access to the room. Choose if you require recording.
- 3 Recurrence can be set if needed.
- 4 Click „Finish“ to continue.

- 5 Congratulations! The room will be available to attendees in reserved time. Attendees can connect by address/number of the permanent room, which will be same for all capacities.
